Of a Nation Poured Forth At Royal Obsequies

OF PORTUGAL'S MONARCH

And His Son Who Were Murdered by Assassins A Week Ago

No Demonstrations Were Made Except Those Which Indicated The Sincerest Mourning For the Dead.

Lisbon, Feb. 8.—The funeral services for King Carlos and his son, Crown Prince Luis Philippe were held at St. Vincent's Catholic cathedral today, with the imposing ceremonial of the Catholic church.

All Lisbon was in mourning, and weeping throngs lined the streets, through which the cortege passed. The diplomatic corps, court officials, representatives from every country in Europe, all the leading residents of Lisbon, and a vast throng of the humble people, assembled, first at the Necessidades palace, where the remains of the murdered sovereign and his son were taken in magnificent funeral car to the cathedral. Double rows of troops kept back the crowds which packed the thoroughfares. There were no signs of disturbances, however, only that was evidently the sincerest mourning.

King Emanuel and the widowed Queen Amelie, remained away from the services, in accordance with a Portuguese custom, which makes it at least unusual for wives or children to attend the funeral of their husbands or fathers. The remains of the king and his son were enclosed in glass covered caskets, the former so heavy that 24 men were required to carry it from the palace chapel to the funeral car. The crown prince's face was covered by a Portuguese flag to conceal the ghastly wound inflicted by the assassins.

Beginning this afternoon the bodies will lie in state for three days before their burial.

POLICE SEARCH FOR NECKLACE WORTH $18,000

New York, Feb. 8.—Police and private detectives are engaged today in search for an $18,000 pearl and diamond necklace lost by Mrs. William F. Dominick, widow of a banker, on her way from her home in Fifty-seventh street to the Metropolitan Opera House last night. As she alighted from the carriage and threw open her wrap, Mrs. Dominick missed the jewels. With her son she searched in the snow at the carriage entrance. But the necklace could not be found. A hundred sympathetic persons who heard of the loss joined in the search but if any of them found the bauble they failed to mention the fact.

TRUST PRISONERS GET PRIVILEGES DENIED OTHERS

Toledo, Feb. 8.—In a communication to Judge Kinkade, a prisoner in the county jail, complains that the convicted ice men are enjoying special privileges, such as receiving visitors at all times, instead of on regular visiting days; that elaborate meals are sent in to them; that the ice men are permitted to go to and from the jailer's office at will and use the telephone, and that rugs and other articles are brought in to make the cells of the ice men comfortable. The prosecutor will investigate.

ROOSEVELT

MAY ATTEND THE REPUBLICAN

PRESIDENT NEVER GOES

Although Many Have Attended and
Were Nominated While There—
Taft Will Surely Go.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Reports from Chicago that President Roosevelt will attend the Republican National convention there in June are viewed among political leaders here merely as the astute work of the "barker" paving the way for a later announcement of the many attractions that may be seen "in the big tent" and thus aid in the return to hotel men of the bonus they subscribed to secure the great assemblage.

That William H. Taft will be "among those present" there is little doubt. He will likely have resigned his cabinet post before that time. Not even the veriest tyro in Presidential statecraft here will stand sponsor for the suggestion of a possibility that Roosevelt could be induced to take personal command of the administration forces at Chicago, although it is admitted on all sides that he is precedent breaker and precedent maker.

No President has ever attended a national convention, although many a man nominated for that high office has been present at the time. Roosevelt was at the Philadelphia convention that selected him as McKinley's running mate. But he was then governor of New York and was forced into the vice presidency against his will. That the President will be a potent factor in the convention there is no question. He will be there in spirit, but not in the flesh.

FALL IS FATAL.

Fremont, O., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Albert Thrum, aged 60, slipped and fell on the icy pavement Saturday, fracturing her skull. She died in a few minutes.

TWO AFFINITIES OF ONE WOMAN MEET AND ONE IS STABBED WHILE MRS. FRANKS IS IN JAIL

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Abas, the "soul affinity" ideas as advanced by Ferdinand Pinney Earle in New York, and Oscar Triggs and Prof. Herron of Chicago, Mrs. Grace Franks of Saint Ste Marie goes them one better. She claims two "Affinities."

"This talk about affinities is all right, but its ridiculous to talk about having only one soul to mate," declares Mrs. Franks. "I've had two, but it becomes dangerous if you let your affinities mix."

SONS HELD GUNS AT HEAD OF UXORCIDE, THEIR FATHER, AND GAVE HIM UP TO OFFICERS

Marshall, N. C., Feb. 8.—After an all night vigil in which they sat with their guns levelled at their father's head, threatening to shoot if he made the slightest movement, John and James Randall, today were able to turn over their prisoner, a member of one of the best known families in this section, to officers they had summoned by wire. Randall is accused of killing his wife. When the sons learned of the attack upon their mother, they armed themselves and went in search of the father. He was marched before their guns to the home and a message sent for the sheriff.

Congressman Burton, Taft Leader Issues a State- ment at Washington

Claiming Twenty of the National Committeemen Where Fight Will Now Be Made.

Washington, Feb. 8.—They call themselves "The Allies" now. That is the name adopted by the boomers of Knox, Fairbanks, Cannon and Hughes for the presidential nomination. Out of the maze of conflicting reports from the Republican state convention at St. Augustine, Fla., on Thursday one large, juicy fact stands forth—that there has been set on foot a well defined, well planned combination among the boosters of the favorite sons to carry their war into what has hitherto been tagged Taft territory. The result of the first skirmish is in doubt.

"Allies captured Florida regular state convention. Officeholders bolted. Two sets of delegates in state and congressional convention."

Thus reads a message received by one of the Fairbanks managers here. The Taft folks continue to claim that their was the only real simon pure convention article, and that it was the anti-Taft men who bolted. According to press reports, both conventions were held in the same hall at the same time. It will be left for the Republican national committee and the committee on credentials of the national convention to unravel

CORTLEYOU DEFIES ROOSEVELT; TURNS DOWN HIS APPOINTMENT

Washington, Feb. 8.—Wm. M. Rossiter, who, on Wednesday last, was appointed by President Roosevelt as acting public printer, in place of Public Printer Stillings, who is still under suspension, pending an investigation of the affairs of his office, went to the treasury department Friday to have his bond approved. The department refused to consider the matter, on the ground that the president had exceeded his authority in appointing Mr. Rossiter, and that under the law the assistant public printer, Captain H. T. Bryan, succeeds to the vacancy.

Mr. Rossiter, however, does not relinquish the work of inquiry laid out for him by the president. His position in the government printing office becomes that of the president's personal representative.

SYSTEM

OF TICKETS TO KEEP REPRESENTATIVES AND SENATORS POSTED

While in Offices and Committee Rooms as to What Is Being Done by the Two Bodies.

Washington, Feb. 8.—To relieve the senators and representatives from the dull task of keeping their seats throughout the sessions, a ticker system is to be installed in the office buildings and committee rooms. Journal clerks of the house and senate will keep up a running news bulletin service and the tape will show who is speaking and what measure is before the house or senate.

The ticker will be installed next week by Supt. of Capitol Woods. If the system works satisfactorily machines will be placed in all of the government buildings and possibly at the White House, so that congressmen when on their departmental rounds as well as government officials will be in constant touch with the floor proceedings in both bodies.

WANT INVESTIGATION OF SCHOOL BOOK TRUST

Cleveland, Feb. 8.—The Northeastern Ohio Teachers' Association today adopted resolutions demanding that the Federal government investigate the methods of the school book trust with a view of applying to them the provisions of the law regulating interstate commerce. Members of Congress from Ohio are requested to bring the resolution to the notice of President Roosevelt.

GOV. HELPS TO PREPARE LETTER SENT TO "WHITEWASH" GRAFTERS

Samuel W. Pennypacker.

Ex-Governor of Pennsylvania, whose name figures in alleged graft conspiracy now being probed at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—Through the testimony of Stanford B. Lewis, assistant of Architect Joseph M. Huston, given at the Capitol conspiracy trial Friday, ex-Governor Pennypacker was shown to have been familiar with many of the negotiations relating to the construction of the new capitol.

Lewis, in reply to a question propounded by Attorney Gilbert, counsel for former Auditor General Snyder, declared that Huston's reply to the letter written him by Attorney General Hampton L. Carson in the latter part of the investigation was dictated by Pennypacker and Snyder.

Lewis said he had been called to Harrisburg by Governor Pennypacker and Auditor General Snyder and on his arrival there went over the letter with the governor and auditor.

The Carson inquiry was instituted by direction of Governor Pennypacker some 14 months ago, following charges of fraud made by the state treasurer, the attorney general, after receiving letters and statements from all persons concerned in the construction and furnishing of the capitol, reported that no laws had been violated. The Huston letter was one of these statements.

GIRLS FORM A BUCKET BRIGADE SAVE BUILDING

Delaware, Feb. 8.—The new technical and industrial building at the Girls' Industrial school was saved from destruction by fire last night through the efforts of the girl inmates, who formed long lines and passed buckets of water along from the wells to the burning building. The water pipes were frozen and the fire fighting apparatus was powerless. The blaze started inside the building and a loss of $1,000 was incurred. The building was to have been turned over to the state by the contractors today.

FAST TRAIN IS DERAILED NO ONE HURT

Belleville, Mich., Feb. 8.—While running 30 miles an hour, Wabash train No. 5, a fast New York Chicago passenger, left the tracks on a bridge near here early this morning. Spreading rails derailed all the coaches. Only the guard rails saved the coaches from going into the river, which is 40 feet deep at this point. The frightened passengers hustled out of the Pullmans in their night clothes in below zero weather, but were soon calmed.

MORSE

Starts for America Today on Infor- mation

CONCERNING BUSINESS

Intended to Remain in England a Week But Changed Plans

Vouchsafes no News as to the Nature of the Message Which Brings Him Westward.

Liverpool, Feb. 8.—Charles W. Morse will sail for New York on the liner Etruria this afternoon. At Queenstown he announced that he would remain a week in England, arriving here on the Campania today.

He said, however, that he had received a message concerning his business affairs, which had decided him to leave immediately for home. He refused to discuss the nature of the information he had received.

Queenstown, Feb. 8.—A newspaper correspondent saw Charles W. Morse who is on the steamer Campania, traveling under the name of C. W. Moore. The ex-ice king was found in the main saloon and when the correspondent said, "Are you Mr. Morse?" he looked somewhat surprised and then replied, "Moore, you mean," but immediately added, "Yes, my name is Morse, but for my own private reasons I am on the passenger list as 'Moore.'"

Replying to questions Morse said: "I have explained the situation already. I have sent messages to America setting out the entire explanation of my affairs. What the explanation is I refuse to say. Yes, I know my property is attached. I have not troubled to estimate how much I have lost, and there is no question about saving anything so far as I am concerned in this matter."

"It would take too long to go into the full details of my financial difficulties, but you might say everything will be all right. I travel under an assumed name because it pleases me to do so. I will stay in England for one week and then return to America and the affairs of the chain of banks will be reconstructed. These banks closed down before I left New York and the action of the receiver in attaching my property is all a mistake. I will see to my property the moment I return. That is all I have to say."

Replying to a message quoting a New York paper stating he had disappeared to avoid legal proceedings, Mr. Morse Marooned the London Daily Mail:

"Statement absolutely false. Am sailing for New York next week."

"MORSE."

PROBING HIS AFFAIRS.

New York, Feb. 8.—As representatives of Mr. Morse's creditors delve into his affairs, they are forced to the conclusion that in all his transactions he used the money of others, pyramiding one flimsy scheme on top of another until the wobbly structure, overlaid, caved in at the first breath of suspicion.

In the bank of North America there is a $500,000 loan standing against Morse that has been running for years—ever since the days when he ran the American Ice company, from a small cake into a berg and left his associates frozen to the peak.

This loan has been traced back to a transaction in which Morse caused John D. Gaes, Chas. M. Schwab, Isaac Guggenheim, Chas. T. Barney and perhaps John F. Carroll of Tammany Hall, an aggregate loss of $5,000,000 and completely wiped out a horde of smaller speculators.

In his first interview made since the collapse of his banking career, E. R. Thomas Friday stated to a reporter that he had cut loose from Charles W. Morse long before the latter's sudden departure for Europe.

COAL CARS DERAILED.

One of the pleasant social events of the past week was the postal shower given on Mrs. W. H. Burrell at her home 109 Valandigham street, Friday evening by the Lady Macabees. The center of the table was adorned with a fruit pyramid which reached to the chandelier. At six o'clock the guests repaired to the banquet room where an elaborate course dinner was served. Upson and her daughter, Miss Edith Upson, and although the weather was extremely gloomy, still the event was a great success and the scene was one of gaiety and brightness.

The entertaining hostesses were ably assisted throughout the various rooms by Mrs. Frank Webb, Mrs. W. B. Wingerter, Mrs. Frank Bolton, Misses Lillian Latimer, Jennie Irwin, and Miss Ida Moore of Columbus.

The rooms of the residence were arranged with a profusion of carnations, and the lights of a number of candles completed the pretty effect, in which the hue of red seemed to be favored. This was also used in the dining room, where refreshments were served, with the exception of the ices, which were dispensed in the reception room of the second floor.

The Denisonian of Granville, contains the following interesting account of a "snitch" party held at Burton hall in Granville:

"Judge Lindsey says that before he can reform a bad boy he must get next to him through the channel of sympathy. There are different ways of strengthening the channel of sympathy. The Burton Hall girls tried erecting pillars out of the vocabulary of Mickle and Mochie."

"Twenty young men were invited to a 'Snitch Party' at Burton Hall on Saturday evening last. Judge Lindsey's stories furnished many texts which were elaborated in various ways. All the young men were asked to 'snitch on the square,' with needle and thread. The young man who best translated this sentiment into terms of needlework was rewarded with a 'snitch-cop'—just a miniature of the one who 'pinches the feller.'"

"Everyone present visited the snitch-booth sometime during the evening. The snitch-booth was a secret corner inhabited by a prophetic spirit, where by the dim light of a candle, worlds of mystery were revealed. Each young man was snitched upon by the prophetic spirit in the presence of one of his hostesses who in turn had her future exposed."

"While refreshments were being served in the upper hall, everyone snitched to the whole company the mysteries which he or she had witnessed in the snitch-booth."

"As a souvenir of the occasion everyone was given a picture of Burton Hall and all went away feeling merrier than any gang of the judge's boys."

Among the many events of the week, the series of two card parties given this week by Mrs. E. T. Johnson and Mrs. C. C. Rankin were most enjoyable. While the games chosen had been favored during the season, still the arrangements were so complete that the entertainment was perfect. The bridge enthusiasts were those to whom the hostesses' hospitality was extended on Thursday and nine table were filled with professions. Thursday evening Miss Agnes Shipley was the hostess of a leap year party at her home four miles east of Hanover. The jolly crowd were taken to Miss Shipley's home on a hay wagon. Pedro was the game chosen for the amusement of the evening and a dainty supper was served.

The guests present were: Misses Fannie Hollister, Amelia Williams, Clara Giffen, Leta Stone, Mary Fleming, Clarissa Arndt, Jennie Giffen, Amanda Hollister, Mary Williams, and Florence Herendeen; Messrs. Bert Evans, Walter Wright, John Rector, Robert Fleming, Dan Letherman, Karl Forry, Horace Evans, Frank Walrath, Laurence Giffen, and Benton Herendeen, all of Hanover, and the Misses Alice Vroom, Essie McMillen and Miss Wise and Ralph Vroom of Nashport, and Kathryn and Alward Hessin of Black Run.

A delightful reception was given at the home of Mrs. H. H. Leist on Church street on Friday afternoon from 2 until 4 by seven ladies of the First Presbyterian church, honoring Mrs. Rev. Grant Jones, who leaves soon for Hicksville, O. Cards were issued to all ladies of the First Presbyterian church and friends of Mrs. Jones. The rooms were prettily arranged with ferns and palms, while red and white carnations completed the effect.

Miss Nellie Vance attended at the door and those in the receiving line were Mrs. Rev. Grant Jones, Mrs. Rev. Vernon, Mrs. H. H. Leist, Mrs. William Kellenberger, Mrs. Harry Pfeiffer, Mrs. Joseph Renz, Mrs. Orie Starr, Mrs. David Kingery, Mrs. John Lippincott.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, where Misses Hazel Lippincott and Clara Cutler served. The room was lighted with candles and arranged with flowers. About seventy-five ladies called during the afternoon.

ROBBERS INVADE
J. P. MORGAN'S CAR.

Galveston, Tex., Feb. 8.—That the theft was committed by men who followed the party of travelers all the way from New York is their theory of officers who were called in to investigate the robbery of J. Pierpont Morgan's private car Independence, in which the bankers and several of his friends are journeying to California. Jewelry and money were taken. One story says $5,000 worth of valuables were taken, while another report says that the robbery did not exceed $500. Mrs. Morgan refused any information on the subject. The robbery was discovered at El Paso, but just where it occurred is not known.

THE BEAUTY LECTURES FOR THE LADIES ONLY

Dr. Felix Cristion of Paris, France, the world renowned beauty specialist, and who will be heard for the first time in Newark, will, in his two lectures here at the Taylor Hall, Y. M. C. A. Monday and Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, give information which no lady who values her personal appearance, who believes in having a fair complexion, beautiful hair and symmetrical form, and who desires to get rid of facial blemishes, should not fail to hear one who has lectured before the court nobilities of Europe. The reason Taylor hall has been secured is because dates have been taken by other attractions at the Auditorium. In every city hundreds of ladies are turned away, so large have been the attendance.

Miss L. M. Maye will be dressed in the latest Paris styles. Owing to the limited capacity of the hall no children or school girls will be admitted.

Miss Cornelia H. Harriman, daughter of E. H. Harriman, is a patient at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, having contracted a cold in one of her ears.

VALENTINE DAY DISPLAYS.

The fact that St. Valentine's day is close at hand is manifest by the displays in the various store windows and the merchants say the sale is up to the average. The various comic, sentimental and other kinds are on sale, and the old custom of mailing them anonymously will probably prevail this year as in seasons past.

In a great measure the sending of flowers or candy has superseded the older custom of sending the expensive bits of paper and paint, and the people receiving the flowers or sweets probably appreciate the remembrance a great deal more. The old fashioned valentine still is largely used, and probably always will be on account of the sentiments expressed even though the recipient has to guess who the sender may be.

Finger Torn Off.

Joseph Pfeiffer, a plumber living at 192 Granville street, was badly injured about 5:30 o'clock Friday evening, while at work at the Everett glass factory. His left hand was caught in the cogs of some machinery and the middle finger was torn from the hand, while the ring finger was mashed off at the first joint. The ambulance of Criss Bros. & Jones was called and took the injured man to the City Hospital where his injuries were dressed. While the wound is very painful and ugly, Dr. H. R. # PROFESSOR CHAMBERLIN'S WONDERFUL INTERFEROMETER WHICH WILL MEASURE MOST INFINITESIMAL ATOM OF MATTER

PROF. CLARK W. CHAMBERLIN of Denison University.

Gránville, O., Feb. 8.—Many will be interested in knowing of the recent progress of Professor Chamberlin's research work, which he is obliged to carry on under the limitations imposed by the heavy burdens of his teaching work. He has found time, however, to perfect his compound torsion and universal interferometers, in addition to the construction of his wonderful ruling instrument described in the latest illustrated Bulletin of the University. He has been called twice to deliver papers and give a demonstration of his instruments before the American Physical Society, the leading organization of physicists in America; he has been elected to membership in that body; made a member and a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and with our Professor Herrick's Cartwright Prize Essay.

Professor Chamberlin, by special request of the scientific authorities in charge of the display of educational progress at the Jamestown Exposition, prepared a splendid exhibit of his instruments for the exposition, which was valued at four thousand dollars and attracted much attention from scientific men. A recent letter from the publishers of the Official Jamestown Exposition Blue Book, says: "Your institution and Johns Hopkins University were the only two exhibiting original scientific instruments at the Jamestown Exposition and both received the same high award."

Professor Chamberlin has still much work before him in the perfecting of his plans. A large commercial

PETITION

For a Local Option Election in Licking County Must Contain 4016 Names.

Since the passage of the Rose local option bill numerous inquiries have been made as to the number of votes cast in Newark city and Licking county at the last two elections. The figures are appended. The total number of votes cast in the city and county in 1906 was 11,823, and of this number Newark cast 4750. In 1907 the total number of votes cast in the city and county was 11,475, and of this number 5441 were cast in Newark. In case an election is demanded for county local option, it will be seen that by taking 35 per cent of the total vote cast in Licking county in 1907, that it will require a petition signed by 4,016 voters to order an election.

TRAIL

OF MURDERERS OF RICH THOCK RAISER TAKEN UP BY BLOODHOUNDS.

Brutally Murdered While Riding in a Buggy With a Friend—Robbery Not a Motive.

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 8.—Bloodhounds from Indianapolis were this morning put on the trail of the murderers of Thomas Mills, rich stock raiser. The murder occurred in broad daylight, while Mills was driving in a buggy with his friend Emory Cassell. Cassell was brutally assaulted and almost killed and Mills was shot. The first theory advanced was that of robbery. It was supposed highwaymen had attacked the two men and made away with $600, which Mills had. This theory was disproved when the money was found in Mills' pocket. On the ground near where the assault occurred were found other papers carried by the dead man.

HAVE YOU TRIED AJAX? Ajax is the name of a cold cure that cures a cure that does all that is claimed for it, and it claims a good deal, too. It cures a new cold within an hour and an old one after five or six doses. That's a strong claim, but local druggists say that it is without doubt the best cold cure compounded. An Akron man discovered it and in Akron the physicians are using it in their practice. They say it breaks up the worst cases of pneumonia. It's a good plan to keep Ajax in the house. It sells for twenty-five cents.

10 HOUR COLD CURE Is positively the most rapid, safe and efficient remedy for a fresh or chronic Cold, Cough, Catarrh, Croup, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Quinsy, Laryngitis, Hoarseness, Croup Whooping Cough, La Grippe, Bronchitis and Asthma. To prevent and cure the gripe use Bentley's White Lily Catarrh Cure. You will profit by an early trial of this specific. 25c. All Drug Stores.

Rings Round Eyes

The ills peculiar to women, take different forms. Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express. Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

WHAT TO DO FOR RHEUMATISM

Don't take any chances with your Rheumatism and don't experiment either, during the uncertain days of this season of the year when the means of relief are within everybody's reach.

Dr. Cassara's Concentrated Barkola Compound is one of the most certain and effective remedies for Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Troubles consists of the most reliable and potent ingredients and which may be obtained in any good drug store:

Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatized	1-2 ounce
Concentrated Barkola Compound	1 ounce
Aromatic Elixir	4 ounces

This prescription will strike the average case to help very simple and may add here that it is also very pleasant to take, but notwithstanding this fact, it will be hard to find anything else that gives so good results in such a short space of time.

Those who have tried it claim that only a few doses are necessary to relieve the most severe cases. It is a powerful and beneficial effect on the eliminative organs, and acts as a powerful purifier of the blood. In this way it cures Rheumatism, by going directly to the source of the trouble, and thus, none, not only of his present pains, but of the danger of a relapse. Any druggist will fill this prescription for you, but don't forget the ingredients and mix them at home by shaking them up in a bottle, and take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

It is usually treated with rest, warm drinks, and lozenges. If it is severe, a doctor may prescribe antibiotics.

FINANCE BILL IS PREPARED BY MINORITY

JOHN SHARPE WILLIAMS, DEMOCRATIC LEADER, INTRODUCES MEASURE IN HOUSE.

A FLEXIBLE CURRENCY

Is the Aim of Some of Its Features—Penalties For Bankers Who Gamble in Stocks.

Washington, Feb. 8.—What will be known as "the minority currency bill" was introduced Friday by Representative John Sharpe Williams of Mississippi, the Democratic leader of the House, who drew the measure as the result of a conference of Democrats behind closed doors yesterday.

Among the provisions of the bill are the following:

It repeals all laws permitting national banks to keep three-fifths of their reserves in national banks of reserve cities, and similar laws permitting such deposit of one-half of the reserve amounts.

It provides that not less than one-half of the reserves now required to be kept in lawful money in central reserve cities shall be hereafter held in gold or gold certificates.

No national bank shall loan in the aggregate more than seven times the amount of its paid up capital plus its unimpaired surplus.

Violation is punishable as provided in the section preceding. Any national bank may keep 50 per cent of its reserve in United States bonds, of states, or in the bonds of certain municipalities; but in more than one-fourth of the total reserve may be kept in state or municipal bonds and the bonds shall be acceptable only of such municipalities as have maintained their bonds at or above par for six years preceding, and have been in corporate existence 10 years, and have never defaulted in their funded debt, and whose net indebtedness does not exceed 18 per cent of their taxable property.

The acceptability of such bonds as reserve security shall be passed on by the attorney general of the state in which the municipality is located, and these bonds shall be known as "interconvertible bonds."

The elastic currency feature of the bill is contained in a section which provides that "these interconvertible bonds may be deposited 'in the nearest subtreasury' and the depositing bank shall receive in lieu thereof United States emergency treasury notes. These notes shall be in the nature of a loan, subject to a taxation of one per cent for the first four months of their issuance, one-half of one per cent for the second month, and one per cent thereafter. When the bank feels that the emergency has passed and the loan notes are no longer needed, it may redeem them with actual money. Such redemption money shall constitute special fund for the purpose of redeeming United States emergency currency notes whenever they are presented for payment, the notes to be then cancelled and destroyed. These notes shall be legal tender.

For the creation of a fund of $13,000,000 for the payment of depositors of failed banks operating under the provisions of this law there is authorized the imposition of a tax of one-sixteenth of one per cent on the deposits of banks so operating and whose consent to be so taxed has been obtained.

The final section of the bill provides that no bank officer shall make a loan for the purpose of stock gambling and fixes as the penalty for violating, a fine in the amount of the loan, or imprisonment.

MANY ENJOY FINE SKATING ABOUT NEWARK

The cold days of the past few weeks have made ice skating one of the most popular sports in Newark, and daily, and nightly, for that matter, the canal has been crowded with skaters anxious for a trial with the steel runners. Many have gone to the park, and some have tested the glistening surface of Buckeye Lake, and from the present indications the sport will be good for some time to come.

Unlike the Canadian girls who don sweaters and skating caps, walking skirts and heavy shoes when they indulge in the peer of the winter sports the girls of Newark go to the ice logged out in their flannel. The girls in their "fluffy ruffles" and pony coats, light shoes and the rest of the street costumes, are very much in evidence, and skating caps and sweaters are the exception.

Even if the ice is a little rough in spots, and occasional big cracks wander along, and spoil the surface, and are the means of many downfalls, that fact doesn't seem to bother the skaters in the least, and only seems to add to the enjoyment. All ages and sexes are out and enjoy the pleasure in the open air, and seem to realize the fact that an occasional tin can or block of wood knocked against their feet or shins by the youngsters playing "shinny," is to be expected.

"HAVE MERCY"

Jackson, Ky., Feb. 8.—Beach Hargis, the youthful patricide, was led to his father's coffin today. When he gazed through the glass opening of the casket, he gasped. Then a shudder shook his body. It was the first sign of remorse since the tragedy. He dropped to his knees and uttered in evident grief and sorrow "Lord, have mercy." His mother came into the room and fell by his side, and she, too, uttered untold grief. An officer tapped young Hargis. He recovered himself in an instant, brushed the tears from his eyes and his face, took on the sneer that has been worn since the crime was committed. He returned to his cell and immediately went to bed. Judge Hargis was buried this afternoon.

WHEN PA COMES HOME FROM LODGE.

On nights when Pa comes home real late—nights he's been "tendin' lodge, why Ma she scolds and talks real sharp and Pa he'll quickly dodge out through the hall to the kitchen, for a quiet smoke by the fire, and never a word he answers "till Ma gets over her ire. Then Ma she lets u on the language; once more she is gentle and kind, and we know that the storm is all over and soon a new peace will be signed. Next mornin' Ma says while at breakfast, "Now, John, you know what you said; send that Spartan Stain up to me early for I'm anxious to paint that old bed. Spartan Stain can be used for old furniture or the floors or woodwork of a room and make them bright and new again. Made in all colors by the Marietta Paint and Color Co., Marietta, Ohio. ## THE LODGES

Fraternal Order of Eagles.
Next Tuesday evening, February 11, Licking Aerie 387, F. O. E., will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the found of the Order of Eagles. Some one has wisely said, "Despise not the day of small things," and ten years ago on the 6th day of February in the city of Seattle, Washington, six men, all firm believers in fraternalism, organized the first aerie of Eagles. This was decidedly a small beginning but as the mighty oak from a little acorn grows, so was it with the order of Eagles. Ever since that first meeting in far off Seattle the order has thrived and flourished, till today there are 1700 aeries with a total membership of over 300,000.

The committee in charge of the entertainment is very reticent as to the nature of the entertainment, but enough has leaked out to warrant the belief that the elegant spread which will be served on that occasion is only a small part of the entertainment. No Eagle can afford to be absent that evening.

Royal Arcanum.
Bayard Taylor Council No. 221 will hold its regular meeting next Monday evening, February 10, at which time Dr. Burner Anderson will tell what he knows about medicine. The informal talks which the brothers are giving are very interesting. Brother Martin gave us a very instructive talk on flowers and their culture at the last meeting, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Those who are not attending are missing a great treat.

D. O. K. K.
There will be a regular meeting of Kootah Temple No. 101 on Wednesday evening, February 12, at the hall of Roland lodge No. 305, K. of P. Installation of officers and other business of importance. A good attendance is desired.

Odd Fellows.
Newark lodge No. 623, I. O. O. F., is still doing business at the old stand and is in a flourishing condition. It meets every Monday night, regardless of the weather, and the latch string is always out for visiting brothers.

Newark lodge paid over $900 sick benefits during the year 1907. I still has a number on the sick list. Last Monday night the initiatory degree was conferred on a small class of candidates in a pleasing manner. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was not very large. There will be a class next Monday night in the first degree and perhaps one or two for the second.

Mt. Olive Encampment No. 12, I. O. O. F. held a very enthusiastic meeting last Thursday evening, and transacted some very important business. We conferred the Patriarchal degree on three candidates and elected two for the same degree. Six new applications were received for membership. On Thursday night, February 20, the Patriarchal and Golden Rule degrees will be conferred. All candidates will take notice and be present on the above date.

The new C. P. M. W. Squires gave us a good talk on parliamentary law at the last meeting, which was highly appreciated. Some fine speeches were made by Pat. Louis Spees, D. L. Jones, O. M. Rankin, J. W. Wilson and O. F. Ballinger.

Masonic.
On Monday night Warren Chapter No. 6, R. A. M., will have a special meeting on which occasion the Mark Master degree will be conferred.

On Thursday night the stated meeting of Acme lodge No. 554 F. A. M. will be held, when it is hoped that there will be a good attendance of the members.

Knights of Pythias.
At the regular meeting of Roland lodge No. 305, Knights of Pythias, held on Tuesday night, the Page rank was conferred and at the meeting to be held on Tuesday night of next week there will be work in the Esquire rank.

Modern Woodmen.
Cedar Camp No. 4727 M. W. of A. met in regular session on Monday night with all officers and 57 of the members present. Three applications for beneficial membership were received and one application on transfer card, which upon ballot were elected. Two candidates were found in waiting, Ira Norris and Leonard Lohman, who were adopted as beneficial members of Cedar Camp. The 50 delegates and 59 alternates to the county camp meeting which will be held in the camp room of Cedar camp on Wednesday, April 1, 1908, at 11 a. m., were elected.

An invitation was extended to the officers and Forester team of Buckeye camp No. 4224 of Zanesville, O., to meet with Cedar camp on the night of March 2, 1908, and to put on the work.

Neighbors John M. Lambert, R. R. Jones and E. C. Richardson were appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Neighbor John S. Albaugh who died January 30, 1908.

On last Thursday night the Forester team gave its fourth monthly dance. The next monthly dance occurs on the night of February 20.

At the next regular meeting of the camp, there will be several candidates to be shown through the forest of Woodcraft and a good attendance is desired.

Daughters of America.
Banner Council No. 101, Daughters of America, gave their degree staff a rare treat on Monday evening, by taking them to Columbus, where the members of this most efficient team did the work in the presence of about 600 patriotic brothers and sisters. Newark may well feel proud of her staff. The members of the team have received an invitation to put on the work for the State Council, which meets at Springfield in September.

Rebekah Lodge Installation.
The following officers of Pataskala lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, were installed into their respective offices by Grand Installing Officer Jennie Smith in a beautiful and impressive manner:

N. G., Mary Swisher.
V. G., Sarah Pierson.
Secretary, Rosa Joseph.
Treasurer, Hattie O'Brien.
Warden, Madge Longstreth.
O. G., Gertrude Layton.
J. N., Nora McIntosh.
R. S. N. G., Hattie Osborn.
L. S. N. G., Amy Donovan.
R. S. V. G., Jennie Smith.
L. S. V. G., Estella Hagy.
Chaplain, Emma Morrow.
Conductor, Martha Ewing.

One new member was initiated into the mysteries of the degree, after which the refreshment committee served an unsurpassed banquet which was greatly enjoyed by the large number present.

Knights of Pythias.

Regular meeting of Newark lodge No. 13, K. of P., was held Thursday night with a good attendance. Considerable work was transacted and one application for membership was received. The Esquire rank was conferred on one candidate. Next Thursday night the Knight rank will be conferred in full amplified form. A delegation from Altamaha lodge, of Granville, will be in attendance. Following the work refreshments will be served.

A Yankee Man-O-Warman's Fight for Love

SYNOPSIS OF SCENES.

Taken from an incident during the Pacific cruise of the American Fleet. A Spanish-American seaport overlooking the bay—The American Man-o-War lying at anchor—On the dock are a Spanish girl and her parents awaiting the arrival of the "Yankee" sailors—Also some foreign sailors—The "Yankee" sailor boys arrive—All crowd around to greet them—A band of street musicians and dancing girl—The little Spanish dancer with her castanets starts a typical Spanish dance—She notices one of the "Yankee" sailors and he quickly falls in love with her and proposes a waltz—Each sailor selects partner—A foreign sailor endeavors to secure the little dancer, but is refused—Waiting his chance, the foreign sailor trips up our "Yankee" and a fight ensues—They are parted and arrangements made for a fair, square fight.

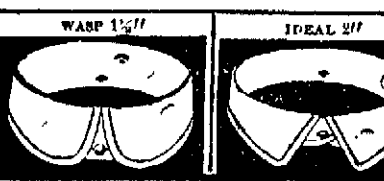

The interior of a Spanish Inn—Articles are drawn up for the fight and side bets placed on the winner—Preparations are made for the fight—Ropes and gloves are soon brought from aboard ship—The little Spanish dancer overhears a plot to drug her "Yankee" lad, and decides to thwart it.

A Spanish Courtyard—The ring prepared—The fighters arrive as well as the referees and seconds—The fight begins—It proves fast and furious—The first round decidedly had for our "Yankee" boy—In the second he recovers himself and his opponent goes down twice and the bell just saves him—The foreign referee tries his "drug" scheme, but fails owing to the little Spanish girl who is on watch—In the third round the foreign sailor is dazed and fights wildly—A well directed blow sends him to the floor and he is counted out—The "Yankee" lad is carried on the shoulders of his sailor friends in triumph round the ring, while the air is filled with streamers and confetti.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

Remember This Recipe For Cold and Cough Cure

Simple as it is, there is nothing better for colds and stubborn coughs. Tastes pleasant, too, and can be made at home at small cost.

Granulated Sugar Syrup, 13 1/2 oz.
Pinex ..... 2 1/2 oz.

The 2 1/2 oz. of Pinex will cost you 50 cents at any drug store. Put the Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours, as required. The pint is enough to last a family a long time. Well corked, it keeps indefinitely.

Pinex is the most concentrated form of Norway white pine extract. It is rich in all the elements that have made the Norwegian pine forests famous in curing consumption and other membrane diseases.

In making up this prescription, do not expect good results unless you use Pinex. It may be that some druggists do not have it, but they can get it for you easily if requested to do so.

Monism.

Monism is the doctrine of the oneness of mind and matter, God and the universe. It ignores all that is supernatural. Monism teaches that "all are but parts of one stupendous whole, whose body nature is and God the soul;" hence whatever is only conforms to the cosmic laws of the universal all. Mind can never exist without matter, nor matter without mind. They are but the two sides of the same thing.—New York American.

The Bloodstained Equator.
Human life, I have reason to know, is held cheap at Equatorville, and the place is stained with many crimes. In fact, the whole equator is throughout its 25,000 miles a line of ignorance, savagery and blood. It is a black line which civilization ought to paint white.

YOUNG MOTHERS

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her child the blessing of a good constitution; sickly, ailing mothers, the reverse.

The tiny babe brings to her a living responsibility. At such a time too great care cannot be taken to build up the mother's general constitution, and restore her feminine system to a healthy, normal condition. The greatest assistance that any woman can have in accomplishing this all-important work is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. M. Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

"I was greatly run down in health, suffering from a weakness peculiar to my sex. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was not only restored to health but am the proud mother of a fine baby girl. I wish every sick and ailing woman would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. Paul Oliver, of St. Martinville, La., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For years I suffered from the worst form of female trouble, and the doctor said I could not get well without an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I have the sweetest little baby girl. I will never cease to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with the worst forms. Why don't you try it?

BASEBALL CIRCLES

A LITTLE QUIET AT PRESENT
AND NOT MUCH DOING OVER
STATE OF OHIO.

President Quinn Likely to Make an Announcement Regarding Ohio State Next Week.

Baseball doings over the state has been a little quiet the past week and there has not been much stirring. Promoters of the trolley league of Northern Ohio met at Sandusky Wednesday to talk over prospects, but nothing was accomplished. Representatives, were present from Lorain, Findlay, Shelby, Tiffin and Sandusky. Another meeting will be held at the same place Wednesday of next week.

The Rebels of the east end of the state are not making much headway in their efforts to organize a new league. Erie can't break from the Inter-State and all kinds of schemes are being promulgated by the Erie owners.

The latest was the forwarding of 2,000 signatures attached to a petition asking Secretary Farrell to transfer the franchise of their city to the new league. It looks as if Erie will have to toe the mark and hand over $2,500 in good cold cash if they want to break away. Why don't the Croesus' of Youngstown and Akron come to the front and help out their poor relation.

A Chillicothe sport writer gets things a little mixed when he states in his paper that it would have been a good ad for Chillicothe to have a team in an Ohio league with such cities as Dayton, Springfield, Youngstown, Lima, Zanesville and Newark, but the chances are too great for heavy losses. At present the eighth franchise is still open, and it is not known what city will get the plum.

Chillicothe will not have a team in the Ohio State as the effort to raise the mazzama failed. Nothing has been heard from Portsmouth and it is not known whether the effort in that city will be successful or not.

President Quinn has not as yet made any announcement but it is thought that next week he will give out the information that the Ohio State league will be a six club affair. There will be a great saving of mileage under the six-club arrangement.

Starting from Lancaster, the most southern town in the league, and making a swing of the entire circuit would cause one to travel 365 miles. The jump from Newark to Lima is the longest, being 135 miles. From Springfield to Mansfield is 99 miles, and from Springfield to this city is 78 miles and only 36 from Marion to Mansfield. From Newark to Marion the distance is 78 miles. After looking up train schedules President Quinn says a daylight schedule can be arranged. This will allow the players to put in many evenings at home that otherwise would have to be spent on the road.

Edward Ransick isn't giving out much information these days, but he keeps on signing players. He is now after two of the Cincinnati Reds' recruits. They are Pitcher Miller from Scottsdale, and Pitcher Blanchard from Tommy Corcoran's club at Uniontown.

Mr. Ransick has asked President Hermann to put a price on them and if he can make a reasonable deal they will be signed for Springfield. Manager Bob Berryhill hasn't been heard from lately but he will turn up at the proper time with a bunch of youngsters that will be the envy of many a club. Bob has the knack of picking out the good ones and he has already landed a few for the Molders of 1908.

WADDELL GOES TO THE BROWNS

ECCENTRIC PITCHER LEAVES
THE ATHLETICS AFTER FIVE YEARS OF SERVICE.

Trenton of Tri-State League Gobles Up Entire East Liverpool Outfield—Caffyn Sold.

Two important baseball deals were consummated yesterday. "Rube" Waddell was purchased by Jimmie McAleer of the St. Louis Americans.

From Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Americans. Waddell was the champion of eccentric pitchers, and for the past five years has kept Mack in hot water. Ever since Waddell joined the Athletics in 1902 Mack has had trouble with him, and at the end of each season there were rumors that he would let the southpaw go. But Mack could manage him better than anyone else, and kept him on his string. The price paid for Waddell was not given out by President Hedges after announcing the sale, said that the price paid for him was "big enough to sink a ship," but he declined to name figures or the size of the ship he had in mind.

Waddell has been wintering in New Orleans. Just recently he brought suit for a divorce, saying at the time, "he has forgotten that he has a wife."

It is given out that C. W. Bippus, of East Liverpool, has sold his club, or what remained of it, to Trenton, N. J., of the Tri-State league. Therefore it looks as if East Liverpool would have to get along with an independent team this season. The transaction is not one of great magnitude as the club only owned a half dozen players. It is said that Bippus will retire from the game for good.

Trenton has also purchased Ben Caffyn of the Cleveland club. Local fans will remember that Ben was pretty handy in the left garden for the Rubber Necks last year. Caffyn got in bad with other Cleveland outfielders soon after he joined the club in the fall of 1906. He asked one of the stars where to play for a certain batsman. When the ball was hit to another part of Caffyn's garden, he vehemently declared that there was a conspiracy on to throw him down.

MCVEY SELLS DELEHANTY TO WILKESBARRE CLUB

Willie Delehanty, the youngest of the famous family of ball players, has been sold by Mansfield to Wilkesbarre of the New York State league. Delehanty quit Carl McVey's club last season and announced that he would never play in Mansfield again. The price paid for his release is not given.

PIQUA DEFEATS NEWARK.

Piqua, O., Feb. 8.—Newark High school, champions of eastern Ohio, went down to defeat before Piqua High school in a very fast game here last night. Levering, Lefel and Chamberlain starred for Piqua and Lewis for Newark. Final score 39 to 23. Newark was ahead at the first half 17 to 14.

BASEBALL ON SKATES.

Marion, O., Feb. 8.—Carl Gast, president of the Annex club of Prospect, issued a challenge to Marion and Delaware yesterday to play a game of baseball on skates. The idea originated at a fanning bee in the club. The Prospect diamond has been flooded and the clubmen have been practicing for several days. Marion will probably accept the challenge.

DENISON VS. KENTUCKY.

Kentucky State's basketball team may have been conserving her strength for use against Ohio State tonight at the varsity gym when defeated by a score of 11 to 37 was encountered last night from the Denison team at Granville. Denison is a hard team to beat on her own floor. At that State ought to win tonight and Ohio Wesleyan should hand the Kentuckians their third trimming on Monday night.

EXCESSIVE DRINKING

Drink—Sold Under Positive Guarantee.

Excessive or continued use of alcoholic beverages always results in a diseased condition of the nervous system. The drinking man is often heard to say, "I can stop of my own free will and when I wish," but the poor fellow is now devoid of the power to act at the proper time and in the right way—it's too late—the craving has secured a firm hold and because of the diseased nervous system he has not the ability for sustained effort. The result we all know.

Drunkennes is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease, and must be treated as such. The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded. Orrine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Orrine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Orrine costs but $1.00 per box, mailed in plain sealed wrapper, on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkennes," mailed in sealed envelope by the Orrine Co., Washington, D. C., or by leading druggists everywhere, and in this city by Frank D. Hall.

The Missing Window Pane.

"Every kitchen has a window with one pane out in the Brazilian town of Rio Grande do Sul," said a cook. "That town is a servants' paradise. Servants live in their own homes there, as they should everywhere. They come to work at 7 in the morning, and they quit at 7 at night—a twelve hour day. Quite long enough. The paneless window is for the milkman, the baker, the butcher, so that these traders can leave their supplies—they usually come early—in a safe place. The Rio Grande servant is, of course, not there to receive them. She is in bed at her own home."

Medicine That is Medicine.

Harley Speaks, 238 Boylston avenue, Newark, Ohio, says: "I was considerably annoyed from rheumatism and acute pains across my joints had made every movement painful. My kidneys also caused me much trouble being too frequent in action and though I used various remedies, I obtained only slight relief. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a box at Clayton's drug store and the pains in my back disappeared, my kidneys were invigorated and I felt much better in every way. ## FOREIGN TEAMS HAVE ARRIVED FOR AUTO RACE

New York, Feb. 8.—Ready for their grueling drive across the United States through Alaska and Siberia on the long New York to Paris endurance automobile race, six of the foreign contestants for the honors arrived here today. The Kaiserin Auguste Victoria brought part of the motor enthusiasts and the other arrived on the Lorraine.

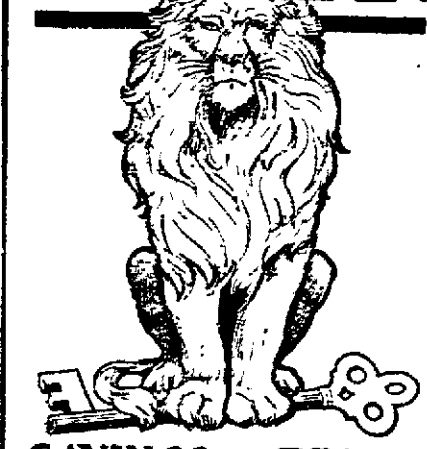

The contest will begin Wednesday when the autoists will leave Long Acre Square at 11 a. m., going by way of Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, to Chicago. Before the trip ends the autoists who succeed in reaching Paris will have covered 20,000 miles. The autoists who arrived today are Engineer Hans Knappe of the German army; Lieut. Hans Koeppen of the German general staff; Ernest Maas G. B. St. Chaffray, M. Godard, and a scullion. A delegation from the Auto Club of America met the foreigners on the pier and immediately took charge of them.

RUN ENDS

AND GEORGE McMULLIN, VETERAN ENGINEER, REPORTS AT GREAT TERMINUS.

LEAVING CLEAN RECORD

Of Duty Faithfully Performed in Every Relation of a Useful Life. Deaths and Funerals.

George McMullin, aged 67, died at his home in the Clare, Wilson avenue and Main street, Columbus, at four o'clock Friday afternoon, as the result of a nervous breakdown, following a long service with the B. & O. railroad as engineer and conductor. On January 2, when he had been off the road since last April, Mr. McMullin became delirious and until the day of his death persisted in sitting up in a chair with his hand clasped upon an imaginary throttle and his eye was fastened to the rail.

He was born in Newark and at the age of 16 entered the railroad business as a fireman. At that time he was working on the old S. & L., but continued at the trade until after the road had become a part of the Pennsylvania system.

After 10 years as engineer, Mr. McMullin became a conductor on the B. & O. and was in charge of the first passenger train from Chicago Junction to Chicago. Through his 12 years of service with the punch he loomed to pilot a "river." He was then placed on the Midland division, running between Newark and Cincinnati. He was on this run when he was forced to retire.

McMullin was one of the central figures at the celebration of the Columbus centennial in 1888. At that time he was at the throttle of the "Pittenger Engine," which ran over the High street car tracks.

Services will be held at the home in Columbus, after which the body will be brought to this city at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and taken to Cedar Hall cemetery. Short services will be held at the chapel after which interment will be made.

JOHN McKENNA'S FUNERAL.
The funeral of John McKenna, the well known grocer, who died Thursday morning, was held from St. Francis de Sales church this morning at 9 o'clock, and was largely attended. The Ancient Order of Heberonians accompanied the remains to the grave in Mt. Calvary. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Rev. Father John I. Plunkett, assistant rector of St. Francis de Sales parish, was celebrant of the requiem high mass, which was said for the repose of the soul of the deceased.

The pallbearers were men who had for many years known Mr. McKenna and were numbered among his closest friends. They were John Tattersall, Harry Kear, John O'Neil, Andy

JOHN McKENNA.

Kerrigan, John Hiser and Dennis Kearney.

In the death of John McKenna the city has lost one of the most honorable and upright men who has ever lived within its borders. He was a man whose virtues were legion, and will be long remembered by those who, by acquaintance with the man, had an opportunity to learn what they were.

An alert business man, yet with a charitable nature that was childlike in its simplicity, he was a man who hated sham or pretending, as every honest man despises chicanery or deceit.

He was charitable and sympathetic and many there are who will rise up and call him blessed, and his memory will be to them as a sweet smelling savor.

THIS smart little dress (804) is one of the prettiest of the pleated models, and is suitable alike to either boys or girls. As represented in the illustration it is laid in pleats that broaden out over the shoulders in a way becoming to all children. The sleeve is in regulation bishop style, and a standing band affords a neat finish for the neck. A patent leather belt encircles the waist and completes the design. Serge, flannel, pique, gingham and galatea are all suggested for the making. For a child of four years 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material will be required.

Child's Dress, for either Boy or Girl. No. 804. Sizes for 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years.
A smart and serviceable little dress for play time could be made after this design (6002) in any of the stylish plaids or checks, using a plain material in one of the colors of the plaid for trimming. The bloomers may be of the plain or the same material as the dress, and may be either gathered or plaited to the belt. The lower edge is finished by a hem casing, through which elastic is run, to regulate the fullness at the knee. Linen, gingham, denim as well as serge and flannel are suitable for developing a suit of this kind. For a girl of 8 years 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material will be required.

Girls' Blouse Dress, with Bloomers. No. 6002. Sizes for 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.
The simple yet stylish little frock illustrated (6000) is on the guimpe order, a style that is always becoming to the little girl. The sleeve caps set into the wide armholes give the broad-shouldered effect, and render the mode exceedingly attractive. A fancifully-shaped bertha is a pretty feature, but may be omitted if desired. The full straight skirt is neatly finished by a deep hem, and is gathered and attached to the waist. Several materials are appropriate, such as serge, cashmere, albatross, challis and the pretty Scotch ginghams. For a girl of 8 years 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material will be required.

Girls' Dress. No. 6000. Sizes for 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.
Of all the suits which have been designed for the boy, perhaps none has gained such widespread popularity as the Norfolk suit. It is generally approved for school wear, being decidedly neat and jaunty. The jacket has applied pleats and a coat collar finishes the neck. The knickerbockers are loose and comfortable. They are of the usual shaping, and the legs may be finished with bands or elastic in casings. Suitable materials for development include cheviot, serge, English suiting and flannel. The 8 year size requires 1 1/2 yards of 54 inch material for the jacket and 3/4 of a yard for the knickerbockers.

Boys' Norfolk Jacket. No. 6120. Sizes for 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 years.

Boys' Knickerbockers. No. 6122. Sizes for 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 years.

Tasty Dishes for Evening Entertainments

Oyster Savory. Take four cups of milk and add to it a slice of onion, two stalks of celery, two pieces of mace, a sprig of parsley and a bay leaf. Scald the milk with these ingredients in it. Remove the seasoning and add the strained liquor from a quart of oysters, add salt and pepper, then add the lobster meat and let it cook for at least ten minutes. Take the yolks of three eggs and beat thoroughly, add to them one tablespoon of rich cream. Add a cup of cream to the lobster at the end of the ten minutes, add pepper and salt and let it cook until it boils up in bubbles. At the last minute stir in the eggs and serve immediately.

Oyster Roly Poly. Cut even slices of cold turkey, chicken or duck. Over each strip place a slice of bacon cut very thin, and on top of the bacon place a large oyster. Roll these up and tie securely with thin white cord or strong white thread. Season with salt and pepper and place in a very hot pan with an ample supply of melted butter. Put the cover on the chafing dish and let them fry long enough to cook the bacon, basting them frequently with the melted butter. Serve with a sprig of parsley or water cress, and pour over them a little of the brown butter which has been thickened with a dash of flour.

Oyster Poulette. Take two dozen oysters and scald them in their own liquor. Put into the pan two tablespoons of butter, and when melted add four tablespoons of flour, and blend until perfectly smooth. Now add the oyster juice, with one cup of cream, pepper and salt and a dash of nutmeg, if the flavor is liked. Take off the pan and when a little cool stir in the beaten yolks of four eggs and return to the fire, stirring constantly until thick. Drop the oysters in for a moment and pour out immediately and serve.

Lobster Newberg. Cut the meat of one large lobster in small cubes. Melt in the pan one tablespoon of butter, half cup of sherry, then add the lobster meat and let it cook for at least ten minutes. Take the yolks of three eggs and beat thoroughly, add to them one tablespoon of rich cream. Add a cup of cream to the lobster at the end of the ten minutes, add pepper and salt and let it cook until it boils up in bubbles. At the last minute stir in the eggs and serve immediately.

Creamed Shrimps. A reliable brand of canned shrimps will be suitable for this dish. Take one tablespoon of butter, and cream it with the same amount of flour, add one teaspoon of rich cream, a dash of red pepper, a little lemon juice, and enough tomato sauce to color it a little. Put all this into the chafing dish and let it come to a boil, being sure to stir constantly. Add a good half pound of shrimps which have been picked into small bits, boil up once and serve on hot buttered crackers.

Hot Cheese Sandwiches. Slice white bread very thin, and cut in rounds with a biscuit cutter. Bread that is a day or two old is best for this purpose. Put a thick layer of grated cheese between two slices, making a sandwich, sprinkle with salt and a dash of cayenne pepper and press them well together. Fry these sandwiches a delicate brown on each side, using olive oil instead of butter, which must be boiling when you put in the sandwiches. Serve very hot.

Welsh Rarebit. Put a tablespoon of butter in the chafing dish pan, add to it two pounds of sharp cheese, chopped fine, a large pinch of salt, a liberal dash of cayenne pepper, a tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce, and stir constantly until thoroughly melted. Then add a wine glass of porter or ale and a teaspoonful of dry mustard and stir until it bubbles. Serve on hot toast. This should be made over the hot water pan, and the secret of all good rarebits is to take them off the fire at the crucial moment.

HAIR ADVICE

A little care every day is absolutely necessary if you would have glossy locks that will stay in place. Brushing gently, but not roughly forcing a brush through the tangles, massaging morning and night, if only for five minutes each time, and ventilating as often as possible, are the three essential treatments. Then add the shampoo as often as needed. A word of advice regarding hair pins. Do not buy wire pins. They cut and break the hairs, and are exceedingly injurious to the scalp, as the sharp points irritate it. The celluloid ones cost more, but they are the only hair pins that a woman should wear if she values her crowning glory.

CANARY HINTS

Beware of mites, particularly in the breeding season. Scald out the breeding-cage well before the birds go in it, and also scald the nest cup as soon as the young birds flutter out of it. Indeed, as soon as the young can hop, or even be lifted with impunity, it is well to put the whole family in a fresh, newly-cleaned domicile.

The mites are small crawling things, almost invisible to the naked eye. They would be quite invisible but for their color—a bright cochineal red. They leave the birds at night, and crawl back just before daylight. This habit is, in a way, the bird's salvation. If a bird is infested, set the cage upon a table, and throw a breadth of Canton flannel, woolly side down, all over it, then darken the room completely, and leave it for three hours. Take off the flannel quickly, and scouse it in boiling water. Do this several times. After a day or two, cover the cage all night, and whisk off the flannel just before daylight. Never wait a minute to scald it; the mites scamper and scatter at a great rate, and will harbor in human hair if they get the chance. Take the bird from the cage blow its feathers lightly apart, and dust it with a good insect powder.

Scald the cage well with boiling carbol soap-suds, then with clear water, and dry it either on the range or in the sun before putting the bird back. While getting rid of mites, it is a good plan to put in hollow perches, with holes cut close underneath where the birds roost. The mites crawl thickly inside these holes. Take out the perches before daylight, and scald them for half an hour. This kills mites and eggs—a most important consideration.

Home Made Prizes for Card Parties

THE matron, the bride and the debutante alike find the afternoon card party a pleasant way of entertaining girl friends. And in making their calculations the prizes always present a problem, particularly if various parties are to be given during the season and purse strings are none too loose. Of course, if money is no object, the hostess will have no trouble in making her selections at novelty shops, but for the afternoon party with only women to consider as prize-winners, home-stitchery and ingenuity will do wonders. This is an epoch of daintiness, and no end of lovely things can be made for the room or person of the fortunate player—dainty things which are sure to be pronounced well worth the winning.

It seems to be a year of boxes. Large boxes, small boxes, square, oblong and round boxes, and boxes for every conceivable purpose. Most of these the home sewer can manufacture quite as prettily as those to be purchased at the department stores. One of the prettiest prizes that you could possibly offer is a set of three boxes, one for veils, rather long and about half as wide as it is long, another for gloves, which is oblong and a third one for handkerchiefs, which must, of course, be square. These should be covered all alike with cretonne of dainty French figures, with foulard, or with pink or blue muslin, and overlaid finally with net or lace. Hinges of tiny satin ribbon must be put on them, and they should be lined in matching colors. Under the inner lining shake a little sachet powder, that the little accessories of dress put into them may make a dainty odor. I know of no girl who would not be overjoyed at winning such a prize. The boxes you can procure at a candy shop, for they need be of no stronger material than ordinary cardboard. Or your druggist often will give you soap boxes that are of quaint shape.

The newest aprons are made of wash ribbon with Dresden figures scattered over it. Four strips of this ribbon about four inches wide are joined together with German Val insertion, less than an inch in width, and around the whole apron is sewed an edge matching the insertion. The corners should be rounded and the apron finished with a band of the ribbon with strings of the same edged with the lace. This charming little gift will make a most attractive prize and is really very practical if made of the wash ribbon, which will stand many, many washings with a pure soap.

A night gown case is something that few girls possess, as it is a fashion just stolen from our French sisters, who love dainty fittings for their bedrooms. These cases are made of heavy white linen bound with pink or blue wash ribbon an inch in width. In shape they are exactly like a large envelope about 18 inches square. On the flap of the case or envelope can be embroidered a wreath or some conventional design matching the ribbon binding. You must make also a long narrow sachet and slip it inside the case to scent the gown, and the case generally rests at the foot of the bed during the day.

Hand-made corset covers are always acceptable, and my space is too limited for me to go into the many possibilities of neckwear, but I can safely say that no girl can have too many charming neck pieces in this day, when all well-dressed girls need about a dozen or more.

Oatmeal Cakes: Cream together one cup of sugar and one of butter. Add two eggs, six tablespoons of milk, scant teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of cloves, one of cinnamon and pinch of salt, all sifted with two cups of flour. Add two cups of dry oatmeal and one cup of finely chopped raisins. Bake on bottom of a baking pan, lightly greased, in the shape of tea cakes. These are most tasty.

Chestnut Dressings: Use the large Italian chestnuts. Boil fifteen of these in salted water for thirty minutes. Drain, peel and place in a large bowl. Add two slices of bread soaked in water a few minutes. In a saucepan brown half a medium sized onion and half an ounce of lean raw ham in half an ounce of butter. Add this browned mixture to the bread and chestnuts. Next chop a raw chicken liver very fine, with four branches of parsley and half a pound of garlic clove. Add these, with a saltspoon of powdered thyme, half a saltspoon of salt, and a saltspoon of pepper. Mix thoroughly and stuff the bird firmly. This quantity should be doubled for a large turkey. It is the true Italian dressing, and the combination of chestnut and garlic flavor is indescribably tasty.

IRRESISTIBLE DREADS THAT HAVE COME DOWN TO US FROM OUR SIMIAN ANCESTORS

"Every man," says the German proverb, "has his tubercle." We may paraphrase that into: "Every man has his delusion." One is afraid of the water and another of the dark; one fears firearms and another sharp instruments; one hates a crowd and another hates loneliness; one turns sick at the sight of blood, and his wife faints if a mouse crosses the room. These people do not make believe; they really suffer. If you do not believe it, consider your own pet aversion and the pain it gives you.

Many investigators—particularly in France—have devoted a great deal of time to the study of these queer aversions. They are called by the French "peurs malades" (fear maladies), and by the Germans "Zwangsvorstellungen" (constraint-ideas). Some of them—such as hematophobia, the fear of blood, and necrophobia, the fear of dead bodies—are common to the great majority of human beings. Others—such as agoraphobia, the fear of open spaces, and folie de doute, the fear of making mistakes—are happily very rare. But all of them, the less and the greater, present features of strong interest.

Agoraphobia—the fear of open spaces—takes a number of forms and has had not a few distinguished victims. One of these was the celebrated Emperor Heraclius, who conquered Constantinople and reigned in Byzantium during the sixth century. An open plain made him shiver with terror, and he could not bear the sight of the sea. In his palace he lived with heavy hangings, when he went abroad he traveled in closed conveyances. Once, when it was necessary for him to cross the Bosphorus, he had his engineers build a bridge of boats bordered on both sides by walls made of curtains and branches of trees. Only thus could he bring himself to venture over the strait.

An ingenious English investigator is of the opinion that agoraphobia is a dread not so much of open spaces as of the surface of the earth. He says that it is a legacy from our simian ancestors, who sought safety from their foes in the dense tops of trees. These primitive anthropoid apes were at a disadvantage on the ground, and they knew it. They associated the idea of the earth's surface with ideas of sudden assaults by leopards and lions. This ancient race impression has come down to us. In the great majority of human beings later impressions have wiped it out. When, by atavism, it reappears, we call it agoraphobia.

The converse of agoraphobia is claustrophobia, the fear of closed places. It is comparatively common, and is usually revealed as a dread of entering crowded street cars or of passing through narrow passages. The man who feels ill at ease indoors—who likes to go roving across the open fields and to sleep under the blue vault of heaven—is a claustrophobe.

According to the English scientist before mentioned, claustrophobia dates from the early days of the human race. At that time man was cowering in the ground. He felt the need of shelter and sought it in caves and in hollow tree-trunks, but experience soon taught him that these places were often harbors for snakes, wild beasts and other fearsome enemies. Therefore, he began to associate small, confined shelters with ideas of fear, and it took him a long while to drive this fear out of his mind. Even to-day savages, children and the ignorant are afraid of caves and dark rooms.

The fear of darkness itself, which is common to nine-tenths of the human race, probably had its rise in the same manner, though now and then it is justified by some small or great risk of actual injury. A great many intelligent and educated persons are utterly unable to rid themselves of this fear. They know the absurdity of it and they battle against it, but in vain. It is, in fact, pathological, and frequently it is accompanied by other and better-marked symptoms of neurasthenia or hysteria, but this is by no means true invariably. On the contrary, many persons in whom it is strong are conspicuously sound in mind otherwise.

Hematophobia, the dread of blood, and necrophobia, the fear of dead bodies, are common. The former is essentially a malady of civilization. Savages seldom exhibit it, even slightly, and they are never moved to nausea by the sight of blood. In some civilized persons it is so strong that the sight of a bleeding wound causes violent sickness and unconsciousness, followed by dangerous exhaustion and even by collapse. Every medical school has records of students who had to abandon their studies because they could not overcome their "hematophobia." As a rule, however, the weakness soon yields to familiarity. The medical student who grows sick at his first operation, later may become the veteran surgeon to whom blood seems no more horrible than so much water.

Necrophobia is widespread among all human beings; but very naturally it reaches its most violent and remarkable forms among savages. There are tribes in Africa whose members flee from the dead as from a pestilence. They put the carcasses and bones of enemies into the hands of slaves and distant tribes. No doubt this fear of the dead had its origin not so much in religion and superstition as in a very real danger. In the days of the great plagues contact with the dead was exceedingly hazardous.

A tale of queer fear-maladies are aichmophobia, the fear of sharp instruments; astrophobia, the fear of lightning, and mysophobia, the fear of dirt. The first is more common than is generally supposed. King James I. of England was one of its most notable victims. The sight of a drawn sword, it is said, would make him shudder and grow pale, and he would clutch the knife at table only by a strong exercise of the will. King George II. suffered from the same fear. He had the spear-rod of a row of iron fence rails cut off because they made him tremble whenever he glanced at them. It is not unusual to find men who are unable to shake themselves because the very sight of a barber it does not disturb them so much, but they are utterly unable to touch a handle themselves.

Astrophobia is so familiar that it scarcely needs description. Every person who grows faint with terror whenever there is a thunder-storm. Some of these unfortunate lock themselves in a dark room, or go to bed, with the sheet pulled over their heads at the first flash of lightning. If a storm comes up at night, when of course the lightning is much more vivid than during the day, their alarm is palpable.

Mysophobia is a malady that afflicts a great many house-wives, though in them it may be admitted, it is often more a virtue than a disease. But in other persons it has ludicrous manifestations sometimes. There is on record the case of a man who so feared dirt that he washed his hands fifty times a day and changed collars every hour. He spent thousands every year on Turkish baths, shampooing and manicuring. He could never bring himself to wear the same suit of clothes two days in succession. Fortunately, this man was rich, so his mysophobia was looked upon by his friends as a mere eccentricity. Had he been poor it might have landed him in a lunatic asylum.

Aerophobia, the fear of high places, often is complicated or caused by a physical malady such as vertigo; but now and then it appears alone. Its victims have an intolerable dread of high altitudes. They cannot be induced, by any means of persuasion, to look from the roof of a high building or ascend a monument. When they find themselves accidentally or unavoidably at a great height they are seized by an impulse to leap into space, and their knowledge of this suicidal impulse that makes them afraid of heights.

Two related, but contrary, fear-maladies are anthropophobia, the fear of society, and monophobia, the fear of loneliness. Anthropophobes are common. Almost every village has its recluse. The malady is marked by a disinclination to meet strangers, a horror of crowds and, as a rule, by an aversion to the opposite sex. Most misogynists, or woman-haters, are anthropophobes also. It was so with Spinoza, the philosopher, and so with Schopenhauer. The latter dwelled alone, took solitary walks, received no visitors, kept the blinds of his lodgings down and evolved a philosophy whose foundation stone was a complete renunciation of all human society, love and companionship. His view of the fair sex, as set forth in his celebrated "Essay on Women," was essentially that of an anthropophobe. He believed, indeed, that it was good for man to be alone.

Monophobia is nothing more nor less than a pathological exaggeration of the social instinct which is evident in all of us. Dr. Samuel Johnson, the lexicographer, was a typical monophobe. He had a horror of loneliness. In the worst phases of monophobia the victim stands in actual horror of himself and is not happy unless the presence of others makes it possible for him to forget himself.

Kleptophobia, the fear of committing theft, trypophobia, the fear of hydrophobia, pyrophobia, the fear of fire; toxophobia, the fear of poisons, bacillophobia, the fear of germs, zoophobia, the fear of animals; insectophobia, the fear of bugs; astraphobia, the fear of falling, and pantophobia, a general state of fear and uneasiness—all of these have been differentiated and described by the experts. The last named is called by the French folie de doute, or high place of fear, and is characterized by a chronic condition of doubt. The pantophobe, on leaving a room, turns back to be sure that he has shut the door. When ordering his dinner he hesitates between roast beef and roast lamb and then changes his order half a dozen times before the meal reaches the table. On arising in the morning he debates whether he shall put on his left stocking or his right stocking first. Whenever he undertakes an act it is with doubt and hesitation; and all in all he has a miserable time of it.

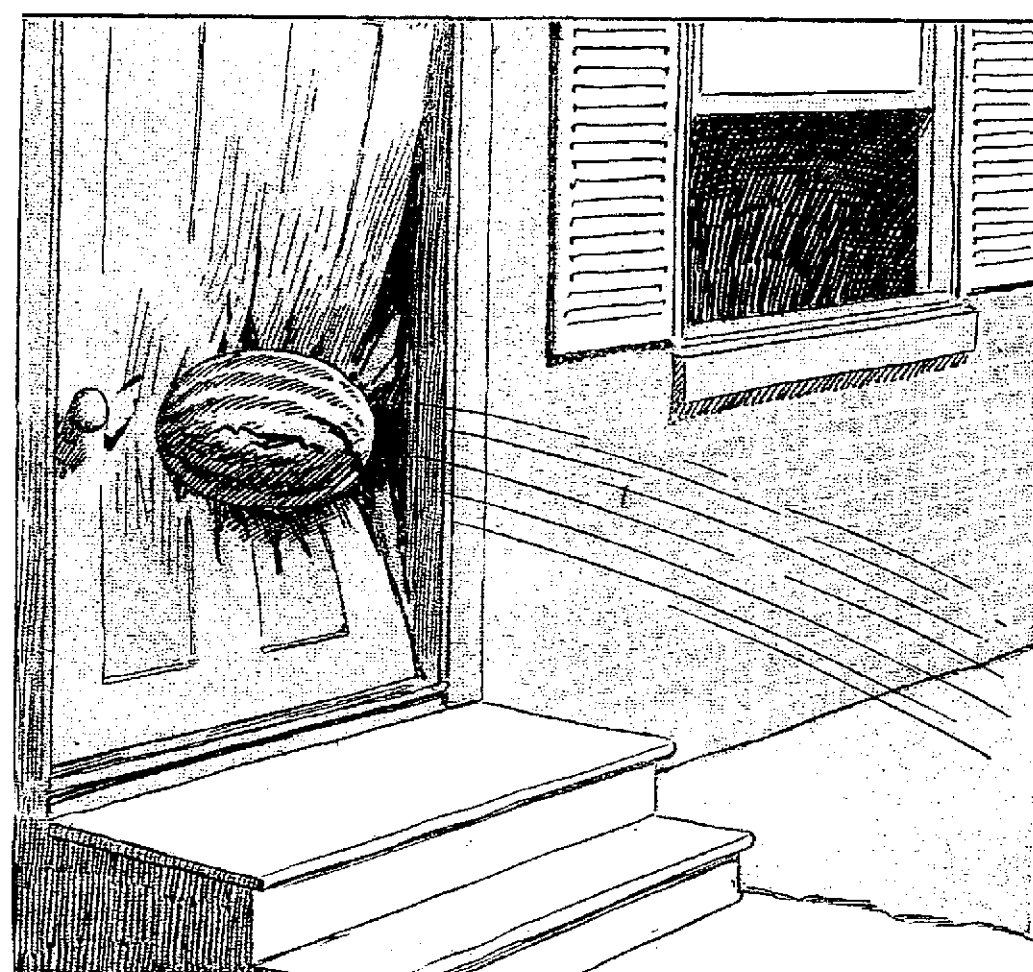

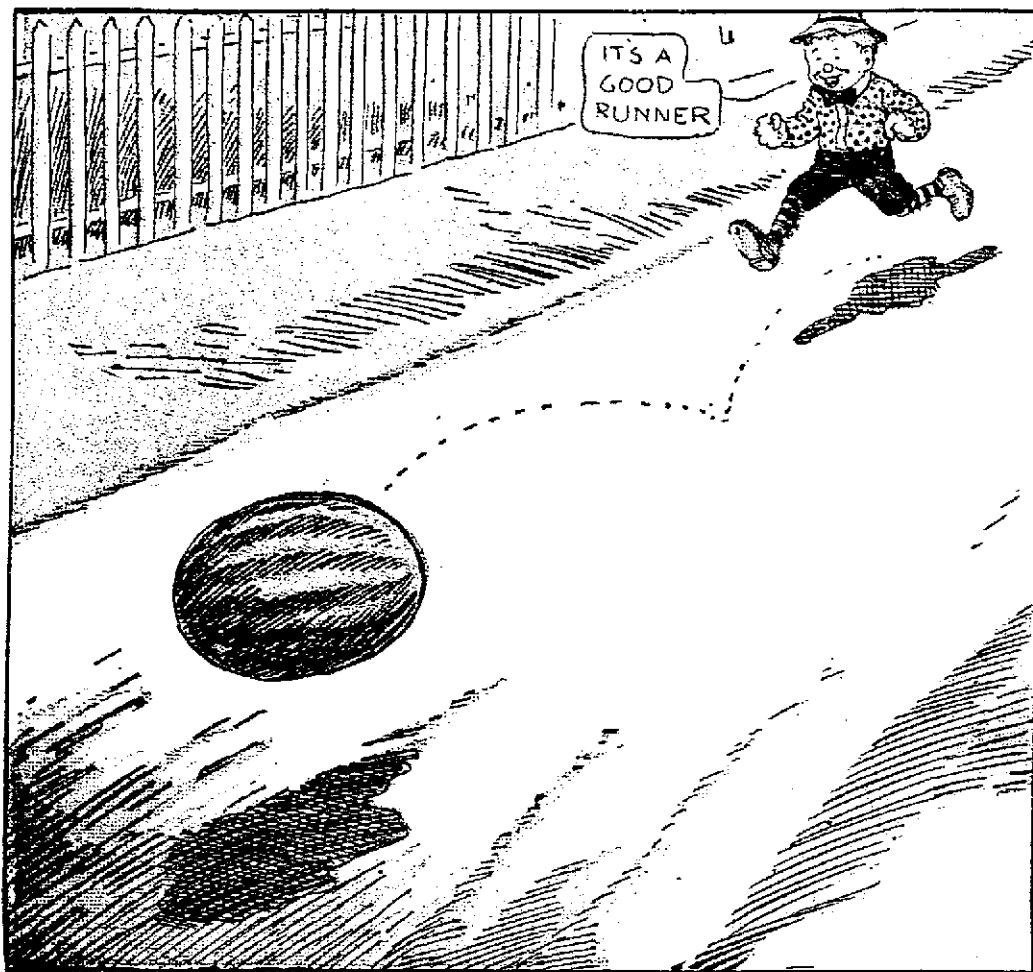

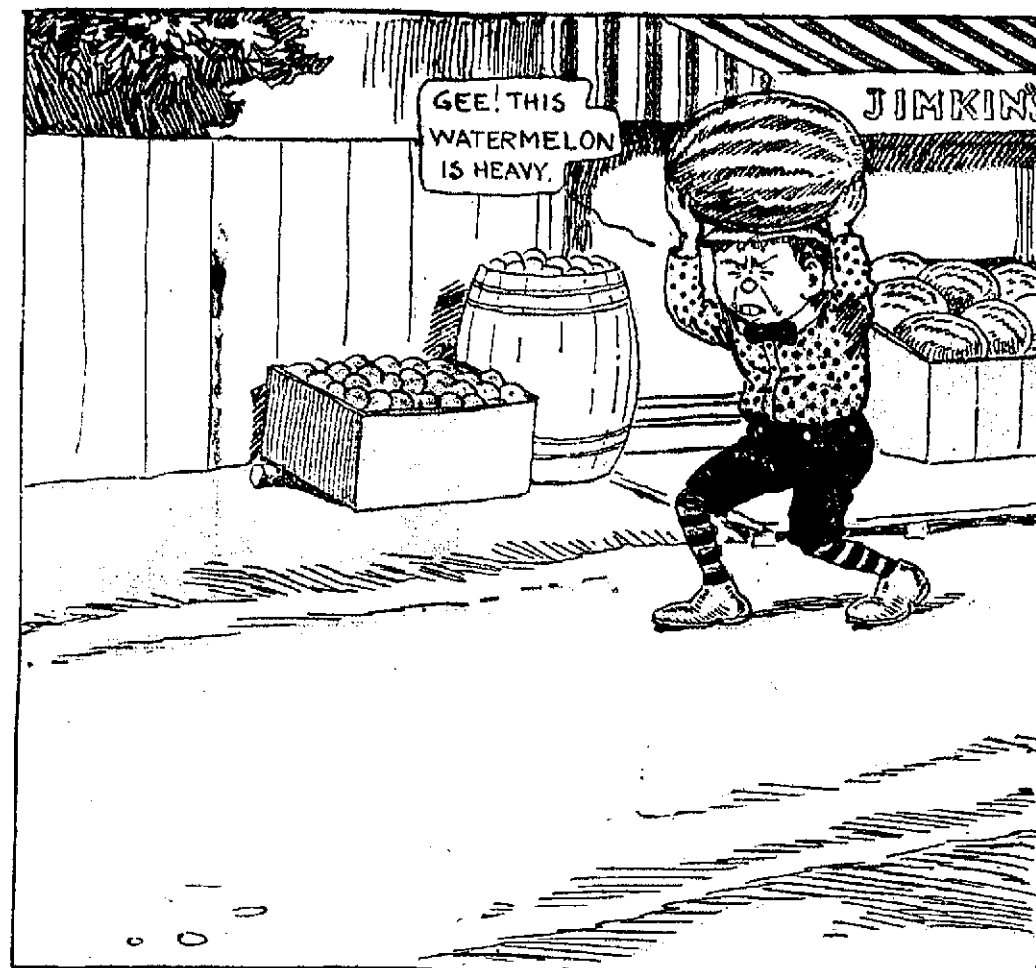

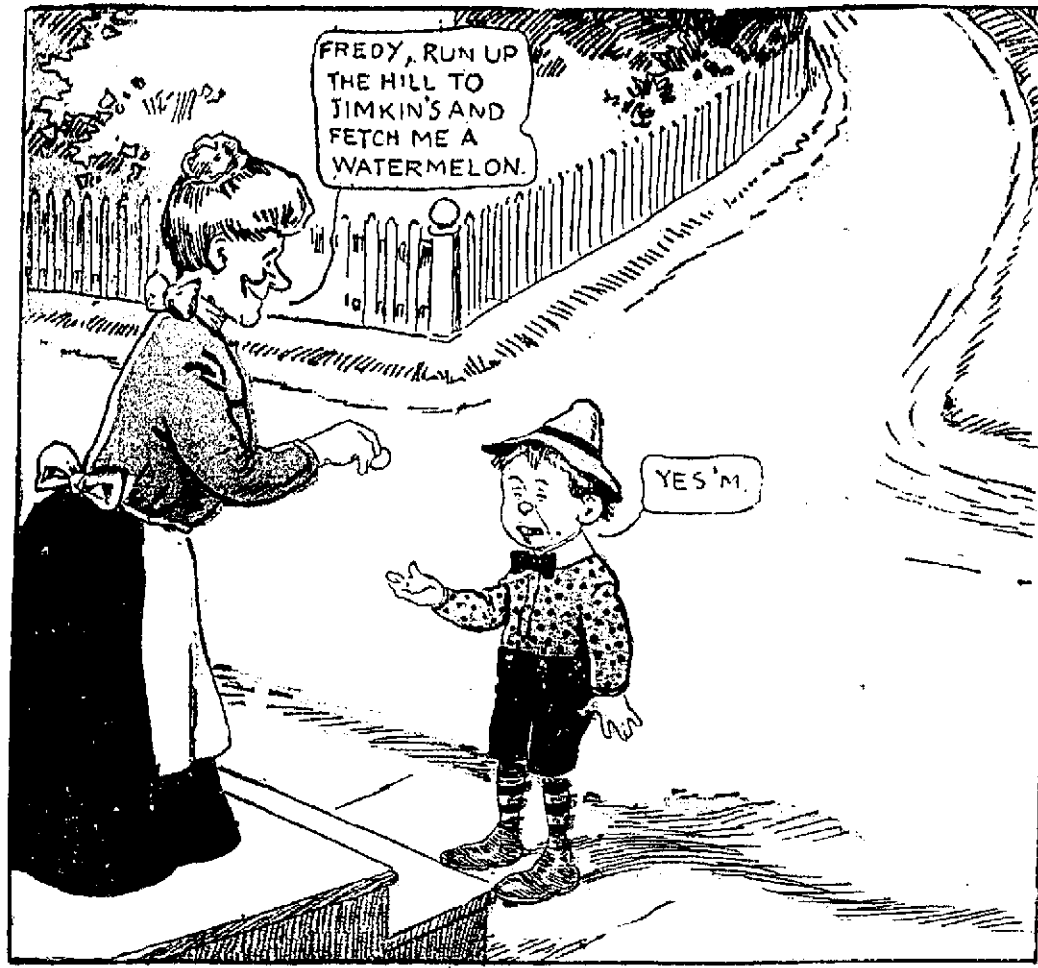

The essential thing in all these fear-maladies is unreasonableness. It would be unjust, for instance, to call the man who fears a parrotphobe, the dominant characteristic of parrotphobia is a fear of that has no basis in an actual or possible experience. And it is the same with all the others. "Zwangsvorstellungen." The parrotphobe sees germs in every mouthful of food he eats; the kleptophobe is so afraid of hydrophobia that he works himself into a state of excitement much resembling it; the zoophobe is afraid, not of the teeth and claws of animals, but of the very sight of them, and the aichmophobe fears, not only swords and razors, but also pins, needles and carpet tacks.

As a rule, a fear-malady seldom approaches the bounds of lunacy, although occasionally it is accompanied by true hallucinations. A cure is always difficult and usually doubtful. The person born with a fear of blood, of corpses, of high places or of sharp instruments retains it all his life. Only rarely do educated and intelligent men rid him of it.
